Miss Diana Rico and Her Weird Pet

BEACH BELLE USES OCTOPUS AS WRISTLET IN SAND DANCE

Los Angeles.—Probably the strangest pet ever adopted by the shrinking sex is the little octopus carried by Miss Diana Rico, a belle of the beaches here. Whenever she goes bathing or strolling along the sands Miss Rico carries the tentacled mascot wrapped about her wrist.

This weird creature of the deep a new tango step, "The Dance of the Octopus," which created a sensation when she first stepped its sinuous figures on the beach.

When not clinging to the arm of its mistress, the baby octopus creeps about a little tank built especially for it.

———o—o———

Analyzing the latest Mexico war news we are disposed to venture the prediction that "Francisco" will soon become "Pancho" once again.